EF University Preparation programs are designed to give international students the academic and language skills required for higher education. Whatever path you're on, we'll help you fulfill your potential.

Earn direct entry

EF University Preparation prepares you for higher education by equipping you with the language and academic skills needed for success. When you graduate from your EF program, you'll be guaranteed entry at one of over 230 partner universities in the UK, USA, Australia, Singapore, France or Germany.

Our programs help you to achieve your individual goals and ensure that you meet the language and academic requirements of local university admission systems. We'll prepare you for proficiency exams and equip you with certified proof of your language fluency and academic achievements, which are globally recognized by employers, universities and governments.

A proven record of success

Last year, 82% of University Preparation students in the UK were admitted to their first-choice university. Previous placements include the University of Oxford, University of Cambridge, London School of Economics and Imperial College London.

In the United States, 91% of students stated that they would join another EF program, while the student pass rate in Australia was 98%. Previous placements in these countries have included Harvard University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Sydney.

EF University Preparation Programs have earned the approval and recognition of prestigious accreditation boards, universities and educational associations worldwide. EF's International Language Campuses are recognized by renowned educational bodies, including the British Council, EAQUALS, ACCET and NEAS. Additionally, the Independent Schools Inspectorate accredits our schools in the United Kingdom, while our Singapore school has earned registration with EduTrust.

With you all the way

At EF, you'll receive mentorship and instruction from fully-certified faculty and staff. You'll be guided throughout by an experienced EF University Pathway Manager, who helps you manage the university application process and gain admission to a respected institution.

Our dedicated approach to university preparation means that all programs can be personalized to your unique language and academic needs. Regardless of your level of fluency, we can help you meet and exceed university entrance language requirements. You'll also benefit from a wide range of specialist academic modules, which are elective courses that focus on academic subjects.

Exploring the future of language learning

EF collaborates with top universities to fundamentally improve the way students learn languages. Members of the EF Research Network explore how linguistics, teaching, technology, testing and cultural immersion affects language learning. Together, we are committed to research and innovation that will shape the future of language learning.

“My EF program was very useful for my future career path. Studying in England was an eye-opening experience that made me more responsible about my life choices.”

Step-by-step personal guidance

8

Our experienced faculty and EF University Pathway Managers are experts at navigating the university application process. With their guidance and mentorship, you'll be placed on a university program that matches your personal goals and career ambitions.

1) Personalized study plan

Receive a free consultation from an EF Academic Counselor when you contact your local EF office. You'll learn about the educational requirements of your dream country of study and outline a specialized program to match your goals. You'll also benefit from informational seminars and free language testing to help determine your language proficiency.

3) Apply for top universities

Throughout your program, an on-site EF University Pathway Manager will mentor you on the university application process. They'll work with you one-on-one to match your academic goals and career ambitions with the right universities, before giving you expert advice on your personal statement, recommendation letters and exam scores.

2) Prepare for university

Our EF Academic Counselors are experts on navigating the paperwork required for university entry. Along with specialist advice, they can provide full visa support in the US, UK, Australia and elsewhere. In the UK for example, our educational credentials mean we're licensed by the UK Home Office to enroll international students under Tier 4 of the Points Based System. We're also equipped to help you with travel and insurance arrangements.

Experience the authentic student lifestyle

Our campuses offer high-level academic resources, cosy accommodation and a variety of cultural events and immersive activities to enjoy with new friends.

Student life

Studying at an EF University Preparation campus enables you to be part of an exciting international student body. Learning alongside students from around the world means daily lessons are always enhanced with lively discussions from a global perspective. The study skills you gain in your classes will help you understand how to successfully manage university exams and assessments.

Experience university life

During your program you'll visit a range of universities, where you'll see the facilities and sample lectures. At our EF campus, we also welcome professors from partner universities to deliver exciting lectures and workshops, in order for you to sample university academic standards.

Join the EF community

Each week, an on-site EF Activities Manager arranges a full schedule of group sports, activities and excursions to help immerse you in an authentic campus lifestyle. Download EF Campus Connect, our online global community for EF students, where you'll find the weekly activities calendar, access your program schedule and network with other EF students at school.

Action-packed schedule

Your EF Activities Manager will plan trips to museums, historical sights and nightlife. On the weekends, you'll explore your host country farther afield on excursions to iconic cities or stunning natural sights.

Tailor your course length

Students who require the EF Language Preparation Program can begin any Monday of the year at any EF Language Preparation Campus and study for as long as they like. There are also special 6-, 9- or 11-month programs that include targeted academic studies designed in collaboration with our university partners.

Learn more, faster

Courses are taught at all levels, from beginner to proficient, and are designed to accelerate your language fluency quickly and effectively. Students wishing to study 6, 9 or 11 months on a long-term program can also choose to focus on specific academic or career-related subjects. Depending on program length, you may have the opportunity to participate in an internship or volunteer experience at a local company so you can develop industry-specific language skills, build a personal network and gain real-world experience.

Our innovative method

EF Language Preparation Programs use the EF Efekta™ Learning System, our own complete package of learning materials specifically created for each level and phase of learning. Your class-time abroad, led by inspired teachers, is combined with technologically enhanced lessons then reinforced with speaking practice in real-world situations. You'll make faster progress because you're absorbing the language in various ways, around the clock.

University of Cambridge collaboration

Our collaboration with expert linguists has resulted in the development of the EF Standard English Test (EF SET), a groundbreaking test that assesses language proficiency levels. Developed by world-class linguists and assessment experts, the EF SET evaluates your language level according to the internationally recognized standard, the Common European Framework of Reference.

Accelerated College Degree Program

Earn a US high school diploma and an associate's degree through an intensive program of language and academic study that starts at EF Seattle.

Program overview

The EF Accelerated College Degree Program provides students who have not yet graduated from high school with the opportunity to earn a high school diploma and an associate's degree in the United States.

The program is divided into two phases: The first phase of study takes place at EF Seattle where you'll strengthen and reinforce your English fluency and academic writing skills. Phase two involves two years of academic study where you'll earn your high school diploma and associate's degree at a partner university.

You'll graduate at least one year earlier than your classmates back home – saving you time and money. After completion of your associate's degree, you may choose to continue your university education by transferring your university credits towards the completion of a full bachelor's degree.

Living on a US campus

While enrolled in the second phase of the EF Accelerated College Degree Program, you'll be living and learning alongside American students as you gain further English fluency and earn your associate's degree. You'll choose between studying on the campuses of Green River College, Seattle Central College or Pierce College, all of which are located in Washington State. You'll work closely with your University Pathway Manager to determine your academic discipline and how best to apply your academic credentials.

Guaranteed placement

The program guarantees you successful entry to a college degree program through our trusted partnerships with accredited institutions of higher learning where you'll graduate with the academic qualifications you need to succeed.

University Foundation Program

18

Gain the skills you need to progress directly to an undergraduate program in the United Kingdom, United States, Australia, Singapore, Germany or France.

Program overview

EF University Foundation Program (UFP) is a 6-, 9- or 11-month program of study that helps international students fulfill language and academic requirements for university entrance abroad. Intended for high school graduates, this program bridges the gap between a student's previous education and what is expected of them at a university abroad.

This additional year of secondary school studies is mandatory for students seeking higher education in the United Kingdom and highly recommended for students who wish to study in the United States, Australia, Singapore, France or Germany. In Germany, the EF University Foundation Program focuses on preparing high school graduates for university entrance exams.

Gain the skills to succeed

Our EF University Foundation Program prepares you thoroughly for the challenges of higher education. You'll learn essential study skills such as essay writing, critical thinking and independent research, as well as academic terminology.

Depending on your choice of country and subject, EF offers a range of academic specialisms which enables you to access almost any bachelor degree program.

Perfect your language skills

EF University Foundation Program will give you the training you need to meet university enrollment requirements. To qualify for most bachelor's degree programs in English-speaking countries, students generally need an IELTS score of at least 6.0 or TOEFL of 550 PBT/ 213 CBT/ 81 IBT or above.

For students whose language abilities are not yet strong enough, an additional program of study, the EF Language Preparation Program, may be necessary to help establish a strong foundation of fluency to meet the enrollment requirements of any EF University Preparation program.

Guaranteed admission

In addition to your studies, you will have dedicated University Application Workshops with trained teachers designed to navigate the process of choosing and applying to a degree program. Furthermore, your University Pathways Manager will be on hand to give you one-to-one assistance and advice, organize visits to universities, and ensure you meet critical deadlines to maximize your chances of acceptance to the best possible university.

At a glance

Taught entirely in English, the University Foundation Program provides intensive academic training that prepares you for the demands of higher education.

One third of the program focuses on language and communication skills, while another third offers extensive training in academic research, including online research that incorporates different strategies such as Qualitative and Quantitative Research Methods and Critical Thinking.

In the UK and US, the final third comprises of electives in industry-specific subjects like Psychology, Accounting and Finance, World Politics or Physics, enabling you to focus your studies and prepare for your future.

The Capstone Project

Students enrolled on a 9-month University Foundation Program, a Pre-Master's or a Pre-MBA will complete the Capstone Project during their third term. Designed to prepare you for the type of work required at university, you'll conduct intensive research on a topic, write a formal paper with citation and formatting and conduct a media presentation of your findings in front of a panel of teachers.

We can provide successful program graduates with guaranteed acceptance to one of our partner universities offering Master's, MBA or PhD programs. Not only do we guarantee placement at an EF partner university, but we can also assist you with your application to virtually any Master's, MBA or PhD program in your country of study.

Our Pre-Master's & Pre-MBA and PhD alumni have been accepted to the University of Oxford, University of Cambridge, Harvard University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania, just to name a few.

Enhance your qualifications

EF's postgraduate programs prepare students for entrance to a Master's degree, Master of Business Administration degree or PhD program at an international university. These 6-, 9- or 11-month intensive programs provide you with all the linguistic and academic skills necessary for postgraduate study.

For students wishing to pursue a PhD, you must have completed a Master's degree and be ready to begin work on your thesis proposal.

A tailored program

EF's postgraduate programs are tailored for students who are bound for graduate tuition, and offer the flexibility of studying for either 6, 9 or 11 months. In the UK and US specifically, you'll take specialist module classes in an academic area of your choice, to help prepare you for your postgraduate degree and build your overall confidence. In your third term, you'll also complete the Capstone Project. (See p.19 for further details.)

Across our program destinations in the UK, USA, Australia, Germany and France, we will ensure that you reach the required academic and language standards in order to succeed.

English and exam training

One of the goals of EF's postgraduate preparation programs is to help you perfect your specialized academic skills. All university postgraduate programs require an official language proficiency score for international student admissions. Therefore, our programs include highly structured exam training for IELTS, TOEFL and GRE/GMAT exams, as well as a wide range of elective classes in your academic area. You'll receive the best possible preparation for your future studies and gain the confidence and knowledge to succeed in a competitive academic environment. Some of our Australian and US partner universities even allow entry without TOEFL or IELTS scores after successful completion of EF's Pre-Master's or Pre-MBA Program.

34 Study in Oxford

EF's modern Oxford campus puts you in the heart of one of the world's most prestigious university cities.

Learn about the United Kingdom's world-renowned school system.

Why study in the UK?

The UK's education system is widely regarded as one of the best in the world – and you'll benefit from all it has to offer with the help of EF. Once you graduate from an EF University Preparation Program, you'll not only get to enjoy the world-leading facilities found at universities across the nation but also expert tuition and Britain's renowned student life.

Education in the UK

Compulsory education begins at the age of five and finishes at the age of 16 when students take their General Certificate of Secondary Education (GCSEs) in up to 10 subjects. Afterward, students can take A Levels at a sixth form college. Students usually study three to four subjects, which are commonly related to their desired degree subject. A Level grades are a determining factor in university admittance.

The bachelor's degree

Undergraduate students in the UK typically pursue a bachelor's degree that specializes in one subject for three years. Entrance requirements for international students include English proficiency (with a minimum IELTS level 6.0) and an additional year of secondary school, known as an EF University Foundation Program, which is equivalent to Grade 13.

Master's, MBA and PhD degrees

A traditional Master's or MBA degree typically lasts one year and requires successful completion of both exams and a dissertation to graduate. Some specialized careers require the completion of a doctoral program or PhD, which includes four to five years of advanced study and research. For most of these programs, international students are required to have a recognized undergraduate degree and an English level of at least IELTS level 6.5. MBA programs normally require at least two years of work experience.

Why study in the USA?

25 of the world's top 50 universities are located in the United States. We'll help you apply to these institutions, and guarantee your placement at one of our esteemed partner universities.

Education in the USA

Schooling is mandatory for all children aged six to 16. Elementary school typically runs from Grade 1 to Grade 6 (ages 6 to 12), and Grades 7 to 8 (ages 13-14) are spent at a junior high or middle school. Grades 9-12 (ages 15 to 18) are attended at a high school.

Community colleges

Community colleges provide a two-year associate's degree program, often used as a springboard to a four-year bachelor's degree at university. Community colleges have fewer admission requirements than four-year institutions.

Liberal arts colleges

A liberal arts college places emphasis primarily on undergraduate study, and can be private or public. Some also offer graduate programs in business administration, law, nursing and medicine.

Public universities

Commonly referred to as state universities, public universities are founded and operated by state government entities, receiving most of their funding from the state and/or federal government. Generally, they have statewide admission requirements and cost less than private universities.

Private universities

Private universities receive no governmental financial support. They are funded through faculty research grants, tuition fees and alumni donations. Students often choose private universities due to small class sizes, technological resources and research facilities.

Learn about Australia's esteemed school system and your different pathways to success with EF.

Why study in Australia?

Australia provides students with the perfect base to earn a globally recognized degree. Choose from campus- or city-based universities found across the country and enjoy traditional Aussie student life – firstly with EF and then at the university of your choice.

Education in Australia

Education in Australia is compulsory for eleven years, but university-bound students study for thirteen. The curriculum is nationalized across Australia with students learning core subjects such as English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies and Physical Education. At the end of Year 12, students sit their Higher School Certificate examinations.

Bachelor's degrees

Upon completion of their Year 12 Certificate, students in Australia usually undertake a bachelor's program for three to six years. In addition to their Year 12 certificate equivalence, international students are required to demonstrate English fluency, which can be provided by an internationally recognized test result, such as an IELTS of 6.0 or higher. Successful completion of the EF University Foundation Program can waive the language requirement for entry to our partner universities, as well as prepare students for the academic demands of university.

Postgraduate degrees

Postgraduate programs are offered in many disciplines in Australia. Master's degrees require a minimum three year full-time bachelor's degree and demonstrated fluency in English, such as an IELTS result of 6.5 or higher. The EF Pre-Master's and Pre-MBA Program prepares students for the academic rigor of master's degrees and can waive the language requirement with our university partners upon successful completion of the course.

Peter Murray, International Recruitment Officer, University of Wollongong

“The University of Wollongong (UoW) is ranked in the top 250 universities worldwide by QS and Times Higher Education. UoW welcomes EF students with a direct entry agreement.”

Your future in Australia

Choose from world-class universities

We've proudly partnered with some of the world's most prestigious institutions, including seven highly-esteemed universities and colleges in Australia. Our partnerships offer many pathways for you to achieve success, setting you up for a truly international future.

Follow a clear path to success

Three of our key partners, the University of Wollongong, the University of Newcastle and TAFE New South Wales, offer visa packages to students who book with us. This provisionally secures your residency in Australia for the entirety of your EF program and subsequent university degree, providing you with a clear and reputable academic pathway before you've even left your home country. Your continuation on this path is dependent upon successful completion of your EF program.

Transition to university

If you've finished Year 11 of high school in your country, you'll be able to directly enroll in a foundation program that leads onto a bachelor's degree at an Australian university, once you've successfully completed our EF University Preparation program.

Not yet reached Year 11? We'll assist you to follow the Technical and Further Education (TAFE) route to university. You'll earn a diploma that later leads to a bachelor's degree in a subject of your choosing. So no matter what your level or academic interests, we'll support you to continue your education after studying with us.

Experience the excitement of Singapore, Asia's educational hub for international students preparing for university in an English-speaking country.

School system of Singapore

Why study in Singapore?

From primary school to postgraduate degrees, students in Singapore are guaranteed a first-class education in a country that prides itself on its academic system. Studying at EF Singapore will allow you to gain the language and academic skills to enroll at universities in Singapore or the UK.

Primary and secondary school

Compulsory primary and secondary education lasts for ten years and is taught in English. At the end of Grade 10, students sit the GCE O-level or GCE N-level examinations. Students who complete secondary education may proceed to pre-university education at the Junior Colleges, pursue certificate or diploma studies at one of the Polytechnics, or leave school and enter the workforce. In the Singaporean education system, pre-university education lasts for three years. These three years will prepare students for the GCE A-level examinations. Certificate examinations.

Bachelor's degrees

Upon completion of GCE A-levels, students may undertake a bachelor's degree at one of Singapore's public or private universities, which is obtained after three to five years of study. Bachelor's degrees in Engineering, Dentistry, Law, Building, Real Estate, Music and Architecture require four years while Medicine requires five. The minimum English requirement for entry to a bachelor's degree is IELTS 6.0 or equivalent.

Postgraduate degrees

A master's degree in Singapore can be obtained after completing one to three years of postgraduate study. The education requirement for students wishing to complete a master's degree is a bachelor's degree or equivalent, and the standard English language requirement is IELTS 6.5 or equivalent. Doctorate degrees are awarded after an additional two years of study.

School system of Germany

The German school system prepares students for entrance to higher education at the country's top universities.

Why study in Germany?

German universities combine centuries of academic heritage with state-of-the-art facilities to ensure students graduate with a prestigious degree. As well as German universities, the language and academic skills gained with EF will allow you to attend university in Austria and Switzerland.

Education in Germany

From the age of six or seven (depending on the state), children attend an elementary school called Grundschule. They then progress to either a Hauptschule, which prepares students for a vocational education, or a Realschule, which has a broader range of emphases for intermediate pupils, or a Gymnasium, which prepares students for higher education with grades 11 to 12 or 13. There, students study up to 10 subjects before taking the Abitur, which is the academic qualification required to enter German universities.

University

Undergraduate students in Germany typically pursue a bachelor's degree which specializes in one subject for three years. Entrance requirements for international students include a German proficiency test (TestDaF) and – if the student's high school diploma is not considered equivalent to the Abitur – an additional year of secondary school in Germany, known as Studienkolleg, which is the equivalent to grade 13 at Gymnasium.

Universities of applied sciences (Fachhochschulen) focus on a practical scientific approach. The range of subjects is generally not as extensive and is focused on certain subject areas, such as technology, industry, social affairs or media. The integrated practical phases are comprised of internships spanning several weeks, extended project phases or entire practical semesters.

Master's, MBA or PhD degrees: Ages 21+

A master's or MBA degree typically lasts one year and requires both exams and a thesis to graduate. For most of these programs, international students are required to have a recognized undergraduate degree and a German level of at least C1. MBA programs normally require at least two years of work experience."

School system of France

France has a long history in academic excellence. Today, its school system provides students with a clear pathway to success.

Why study in France?

France is home to several world-renowned academic institutions that have helped shape the modern world. From prestigious art schools to business-focused institutions, French universities have been providing students with a first-class education for centuries. Today, students benefit from state-of-the-art facilities, small class sizes, low tuition fees and leading professors in universities across the country.

Education in France

French students first attend school at the age of 6 and stay in L'École Primaire until the age of 10. Between 11 and 15, students attend Le Collège, which is equivalent to middle school. Students must pass a test called Le Brevet to graduate from Le Collège and progress to Le Lycée. At Le Lycée, students spend three years studying for their Baccalauréat général, which is the qualification required to enter university.

Undergraduate

Students can apply to their chosen public and private universities once they have gained the necessary academic and language qualifications. Public universities accept all applicants who have the Baccalauréat général or international equivalent; private institutions, however, have a much stricter application process, including an entrance exam. Tuition fees also vary depending on the type of university and course. Undergraduate degrees usually last for three years and focus on one subject. Students collect up to 60 ECTS (credits) per year and need 180 to graduate.

Postgraduate

A master's degree in France lasts for two years. After the first year of study, students must decide between working toward a teacher-led master's degree or a master's degree in research, with the latter option viewed as a PhD gateway. Depending on your course and institution, you'll have to complete a dissertation or research project to graduate with a master's degree.

Terms and Conditions

Who may apply?

EF University Preparation Abroad programs are open to students age 16 and over at course start date.

How to enroll

Students send in their enrollment details to EF by phone, online, by mail, or at an EF office. The Organizer accepts the enrollment by sending the student a confirmation and initial invoice. A non-refundable Enrollment Fee of 320 € and cancellation Protection Fee of 195 € is due upon enrollment.

What's included in the Program Fee?

- Program of choice (total tuition time varies according to program type)
- Shared room in a homestay with half board (breakfast & dinner Mon-Fri and all meals on weekends) or select residences
- Wi-Fi access at the EF International Language Campus
- Digital learning media
- Placement and progress tests
- EF Program Certificate and EFSET Graduation Report
- Access to EF Campus Connect from enrollment
- Online pre- and post-course for up to three or six months (depending on program)
- At least one external English examination (IELTS/TOEFL) is included in all programs except EF Language Preparation Courses, and the Accelerated College Degree Program.
- A limited number of university applications are included in all programs except EF Language Preparation Courses.

The Program Fee is comprised of two elements: The Tuition Fee (40%) for lessons and the Student Services Fee (60%) for other items including homestay accommodation.

As services included in the Course Fee varies depending on destination and course type, more detailed information is provided in the brochure's individual destination pages (26- 67).

What's not included in the Program Fee?

- Enrollment fee
- Cancellation Protection Fee
- EF program materials
- Local transportation to and from the Language Campus and transfer to and from the airport to accommodation
- Internet/Wi-Fi in homestay or residence may not be available
- Optional activities and excursions
- Credit card fees
- Courier fees

Methods of Payment

The program fees must be paid by any of the following means:

1. To the local EF office or representative
2. By credit card
3. By bank transfer to the following account:

Account Holder: EF Language Colleges Ltd
Account Holder Address: Haldenstrasse 4, 6006 Luzern Switzerland
Bank Address: Schwanenplatz 8, 6004 Luzern Switzerland
IBAN: CH25 0483 5030 3195 2202
BIC/SWIFT: CRESCHZZ80A
Clearing Number: 4835

Please note that cash cannot be accepted. If applicable, credit card fees will apply according to local laws and regulation.

Payment Plan

Students will receive a booking confirmation upon enrollment and an invoice for a second payment of 2000 € due 30 days after Enrollment. A final invoice for the remaining balance is due at least 45 days prior to your program start date.

For late payments, EF reserves the right to charge a late payment fee of 50 €. In case of non-payment or late payment, EF has the right to terminate the contract.

Enrolments made within 30 days of the course start date will be charged an additional non-refundable Courier Fee of 50 €. The payment of the whole Course Fee is due on the enrollment day. Any promotional offers confirmed at the time of booking are subject to the student keeping the payment plan and not reducing the length of the booking.

Travel Insurance Coverage

All students must have travel insurance coverage. EF has a tailor-made travel insurance group policy with the insurance provider Erika Insurance Ltd. under which EF Education First Ltd. and EF International Language Schools Ltd. are the policyholders. This insurance is included in the booking and will be part of the total amount charged to the student. The insurance coverage includes illness/accident, repatriation, interruption, theft, delay and liability. Full terms of the insurance can be found in the EF Terms and Conditions. A student wishing to renounce this coverage must fill out the proof of insurance document and provide EF with a copy of the alternative insurance policy in English, no later than 15 days before the due date of the final invoice. Students enrolling at a school in Australia are required by the Australian government to obtain medical insurance with an Australian company. Students enrolled at the Dubai school for longer than 24 weeks are required by law to obtain visa and medical insurance. EF offers students travelling to Australia and Dubai the required visa and insurance for purchase. Parents and guardians of students under the age of 18 (for students traveling to Vancouver, Canada) are required to sign a Medical Release Waiver.

Cancellation Protection

EF Cancellation Protection is available upon enrollment and charged as a one-time, non-refundable fee of 195 €. This covers cancellations before departure due to illness or illness in the student's immediate family. A doctor's documentation is needed within 10 days of the claim.

Class schedules and attendance

Classes are offered at all EF International Language Campuses worldwide in a block schedule of 5 days on Monday to Saturdays from 8:00 to 20:00. EF language lessons last at least 40 minutes and are often held in blocks of 2 x 40 minutes. To receive any program certificate or diploma and to maintain visa status, EF students must have an attendance of at least 80%.

Specifically for the EF University Preparation Program in the USA, a 90% attendance at lessons is required to receive a program certificate or diploma and maintain visa status.

Academic criteria

To graduate from the EF University Foundation Program, EF Accelerated College Degree Program, EF University Transition Program, EF Diploma in Business & Management, EF Pre-Master's/Pre-MBA Programs, EF Pre-PhD Program:

- Students must achieve the grades required for their chosen subject to be considered for guaranteed entry.
- Students must also achieve the minimum English requirements for degree programs to be considered successful program graduates Upon arrival the student will take a written examination to determine that he/she is at the stated level of English for admission to EF University Preparation Abroad Programs.

Every EF University Preparation Abroad Center will provide up to six levels.

School breaks and public holidays

On public holidays, EF International Language Campuses will be closed and lessons on those dates will not be made up at a later date. Booked accommodation is available to students during school breaks and holidays. The number of school breaks at each EF International Language Campus may vary.

Program levels

Prior to the course students must take a level placement test on EF Campus to assess their language proficiency. The results will be used to place students in the correct program level.

When an EF International Language Campus has a General language level of five students or fewer, EF reserves the right to combine students of different levels in the same classes.

Academic Materials

All EF University Preparation Abroad students are required to purchase the needed program materials. This fee will be included in your total invoice. Prices may vary by destination and by the length of your program.

EF Campus Connect web service and online lessons

All EF students receive an online account for EF Campus Connect. Any correspondence, photos and other media used on EF Campus Connect will be considered personal and EF will not accept any responsibility for such correspondence and media. Parent/s or legal guardian/s of students under the age of majority traveling with EF give their consent for the student to use EF Campus Connect web service and app.

EF General and Intensive English course students will have access to online course material upon enrollment and throughout their course. Students taking EF General courses also have post-course access for 3 months and students taking EF Intensive English courses have post-course access for 6 months. Students taking a non-English course will only have access to online materials during their course. In EF International Language Campus in Dubai, St. Petersburg, Lisbon, Tokyo, Shanghai and Seoul, online lessons are replaced by teacher-led lessons.

Arrival and airport transfers

The fee for an optional transfer between the airport of arrival and the destination is listed on the EF International Language Campus pages. This covers the cost of administration, communication, greeting services and transportation. The transfer service is offered between 7:00 and 21:00 hours local time on Sundays.

If students arrive at any other time, EF can arrange a special transfer at an additional cost of 50 €. If several students are picked up at the same time, there may be a waiting period before the transfer. If fewer than three students have booked transfer services to the same destination at the same time, EF may cancel the transfer service at its own discretion. In such cases the student will be informed three days before the start of the course of a minimum cost and EF will reimburse any members paid for such canceled transfer service. EF cannot be held responsible for delays caused by traffic, road construction or accidents.

Changes before and after course start date

Students requesting to change destination, program type, start date or type of accommodation after initial enrollment will result in a rebooking fee 100 €, which is payable immediately. EF retains the right to make changes to destination, program type, start date or type of accommodation up to 20 days before the program start date. Students wishing to make changes to their program after the start date will incur a charge fee 100 €. A student who wishes to downgrade from e.g. an Intensive course to a General course or to a less expensive destination will not receive a refund for the price difference between two courses.

Students who perceive that a program or other services purchased from EF are not being performed according to the agreement shall inform without delay, in writing, to the EF representative in their home country.

Program Dates

EF accommodation is available from the Sunday prior to your start date until the Saturday after your program ends. The student needs to arrange travel to arrive/depart on these days, as arriving earlier or later to accommodation may require additional fees.

See pages 28- 67 for start dates available in individual EF International Language Campuses.

Student Code of Conduct

Students agree to abide by student conduct rules and other policies while enrolled in EF programs. Inappropriate conduct includes but is not limited to illegal activity or behavior that deliberately disrupts the learning environment or damages EF property or the property of fellow classmates. Students in breach of this code of conduct will be expelled or suspended from the program and outside of the USA no refund will be issued.

Passport and visas

Each student is responsible for having a valid passport and any applicable visas. For students studying in Australia and Singapore, additional admission procedures will apply and additional local policies will be provided when you enquire about your program. Destination and program specific policies

For students studying in Australia, New Zealand, British Columbia (Canada) and Singapore, additional admission procedures will apply and additional local policies will be provided when you enquire about your trip. Students under the age of 18 traveling to British Columbia (Canada) may be required to pay a guardian fee. Students who wish to enroll in any of the other EF programs listed on pages 64 or Hult International Business school will be provided with Terms and conditions specific to the program that they wish to enroll in.

Specific laws for Australia, New Zealand and Singapore
In Australia, in accordance with the ESOS Act, your fees are protected under the national TPS scheme in case EF International Language Campuses default. More information on www.tps.gov.au. You are also covered by Australia's consumer protection laws. In Singapore, under the EdUtrust Certification scheme, students' fees are protected under the school's adopted Fee Protection Scheme (FPS).

Validity of Brochure Prices

The prices published in this brochure are based upon currency exchange rates in effect at the time of writing 22 May 2019. They are therefore subject to change up to 20 days before departure, in case the exchange rate between the USD and the currency of the country of the EF International Language Campus changes significantly. The prices in this brochure are valid until 30th of September 2020.

Personal Data

The student's personal data, such as personal data provided by them in the application form, will be processed by EF for the purposes of completing their booking, supplying their requested products and services (including travel insurance coverage), for providing customer service, or offering elements that are otherwise necessary to perform the contract between the student and EF.

EF may share the student's personal data with their corporate affiliates, claims handlers, and other business partners both within and outside the EEA/Switzerland. EF has put appropriate safeguards in place for transfers of the student's personal data outside the EEA/Switzerland, including the standard data protection clauses adopted by the European Commission. EF and its affiliates may also use the student's personal data, combined with information about them obtained from third party sources, to market EF's products and services, including special promotions based on the student's interests.

The student has the right to, at any time, withdraw their consent or object to EF using their personal data for direct marketing purposes by contacting EF at the address set out below.

EF will only keep the student's personal data for as long as it is necessary for the purposes for which it has been collected or in accordance with time limits stipulated by law and good market practice, unless further retention is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation. EF will keep personal data for marketing purposes until the student withdraws its consent.

If the student would like a copy of the information EF holds about them, or a copy of the standard data protection clauses, or would like to rectify or erase personal data, or restrict the processing of personal data, or otherwise object to EF's processing, or use their right to data portability, please contact the Organizer (data controller) at the address 5 Avenue de Provence - 75009 PARIS or via the form available at www.ef.com. If the student would like to lodge a complaint, they may contact the supervisory authority in their home country.

Please see EF's privacy policy available at www.ef.com/legal/privacy-policy/ to read all information about how EF processes your personal data and your rights.

Photography and film material

The Student or its parent / guardian accepts that EF can freely and for the purpose of promoting EF's products and services use photography, film and sound material:

- That has been created during the course that contains the student;
- That the student creates as part of the course and uploads to EF's website(s) or apps or
- That the student uploads to social network, such as Instagram and Twitter, under the hashtag #EFMoment, #EF4ever or other hashtag invented or promoted by EF

Liability and force majeure

EF will not be liable or responsible for any loss, damage, inconvenience, delay in performance, or failure to perform in connection with the provision of any goods or services due to causes beyond EF's reasonable control, including but not limited to: force majeure; fire; natural disaster; acts of government; failure of suppliers or subcontractors; labor disputes or civil unrest; criminal, terrorist or threatened terrorist activities of any kind; public health emergencies; any negligent or willful act or failure to act by any third party; or any other cause beyond the direct control of EF. These conditions do not affect your rights as defined by the consumer protection laws in your home country.

Mispellings and "typos"

EF reserves the right to correct typographical errors and is not bound by obvious inaccuracies.

Organizer

All travel and language Programs are organized and sold by EF Education First Ltd, Switzerland. EF Education First Ltd. is the policyholder of the group travel insurance with Erika Insurance Ltd. EF Language Colleges Ltd. promotes the travel and language Programs organized and sold by EF Education First Ltd, Switzerland.
